

JUTLAND JOLLIES

This, Fans, is JJ # 11, brought to you by the drinkers of Red Cap. Subscriptions to this great All Canadian Diplomacy Magazine are 10 issues for a dollar. Trades are welcomed with almost all other Dippy 'zines except for one which orriginates from the Evanston area. (Actually its publisher slips us a couple of bucks now and then if we promise to read it.) This Glub Blub Publication is not dedicated to my wife who just spilt my last bottle of beer all over the latest issue of sTab. The editors etc. are:

FALL 1904 ORDERS ARE DUE ON SATURDAY 6 APRIL, 1968

PRESS RELEASES:

NEW NAPLES, NOVA SCOTIA (14 APRIL) In keeping with the new Italian Government orders, reports on casualties in the conflict in Nova Scotia will be delayed. Brief encounters with enemy troops reported massing near New Naples have been inconclusive, but a supply line to Italy is still strong and fresh colonists are reported to be building a new settlement a few miles down the coast. The Italian chiefs of staff have officially stated New Naples as "defensible".

EDINBURG: The Government of the United Kingdom announced its approval of the proposals of the eminent Dr. Henry J. Morgenthau of the Reichsbank for the elimination of French Armament making capacity in the post-war world, from the Scottish capital today, following a conference between members of the Government and Dr. Heinrich Rechts Weiss, special emissary of the Imperial German Treasury Department.

ROME (17 April): Today Rome is fired up with joy over the victory against the Austrian invaders in Venice. However, the liberating troops are reported to have witnessed the results of the Austrian aggression. One private told reporters that "the Austrian scum carried off all the women and children, and destroyed valuable art works in Venice." Others reported "mass murders, looting, burning.." A division of Austrian cavalry tried to remove a warehouse full of "vapor paludis", or swamp gas, the result of Canadian attempts at brewing beer, but the whole lot exploded and leveled an entire township near the Piedmont border. A huge cloud of swamp gas is reported to be heading across Tyrolia toward Germany. Whether the Austrians intended this or not is not known, but it did result in the garrison in Vienna moving to Trieste, thus cutting off the retreat of the Austrian scum in Venice. The noble Italian army from Tyrolia fortunately had swamp-gas masks and survived with "light" casualties.

II # 1 Press Releases Cont'd.

Moscow: We will invent the ultimate high explosive. We will call it the "Atomic Bomb". Then we shall drop it right smack in the center of Turkey. We declare peace with everybody else!

II Game # 2 (1947 AM) Winter 1942

FRANCE: (Harrigan) No build necessary. Could have built one.

GERMANY: (Harrigan) Reserve army destroyed.

ITALY: (Quarant) Build army tanks.

AUSTRIA: (Harrigan) Build army tanks. Also, as Austria had a union and a supply network at the end of last turn, the above build is in order.

Notes for Game # 3 are to be sent to you later.

THE END OF THE GAME AND THE END OF THE WORLD

PRESS RELEASES:

VIENNA (G.P.P., December 5, 1942): In the "Globe" that the Italian declaration of war. The prevailing opinion was that Victor Emmanuel, who was stable in the past, had finally gone over the brink.

"It is possible to visualize a nation of Italy's power warring with perhaps France or Austria alone, but not both at once. That is the way to national suicide. Let us hope that the Russian offer of mediation in the problems of Italian participation in other nations will break this foolish Italian belief that Italian guns destroy the other than they wish to protect."

This statement from Count Ciano, Minister of State, it seems that his is the popular opinion. For although there is a great patriotic fervor in the Empire, most of it is as yet directed against the Italian tanks, the most serious enemy. Italy is as yet lucky. For the war fever has not yet followed the recapture of Trentino (the only matter as the province has an Austrian majority) and thus from the invader.

II Game # 3 (1947 AM) Fall 1942

ENGLISH MARINES OCCUPY BELGIUM --- ITALIANS ROUT GERMANS IN MUNICH

ENGLAND: (Christian) A York - Bel; F Nth S A York - Bel; F Eng - Pic.

FRANCE: (Walsh) F Bre - Eng; F Mid S F Bre - Eng; A Spa - Hold; A Pic S A Bel; A Bel - Hold.

GERMANY: (Harrigan) A Ruhr and F Nth S English A York - Bel; A Den - Kiel; F Bre - Hold; A Bel - Eng.

ITALY: (McLeod) A Tyr - Hun; A Boh S A Tyr - Hun; F Ida - Ger; F Rom - Ita.

AUSTRIA: A Bud - Rum; A Ser S A Bud - Rum; A Vie - Bud; F Gre -

RUSSIA: A StP - Fin; F Nor - Hold; F Sev - Rum; A War - Pru;
(Wells) A Ukr - War; A Gal - Sil.

TURKEY: F Bul s.c. - Hold; A Con S F Bul; F Smy - Aeg; A Ank - (Reinhardt) Hold.

NOTE: Contrary to last issue, it was a Turkish army that was routed from Greece, not a fleet, and as there is no area open for the army to retreat, it is annihilated. ((Sorry about that Hank.))

As a result of the above moves, the English Fleet in the Channel must retreat to either Wales or the Irish Sea. The French Army Bel. must retreat to Burgundy. These players have the option of making the above retreats or removing the routed unit(s).

ENGLAND:	3 home; Bel.	3 units,	4 centers;	Build 1
FRANCE:	3 home; Por, Spa, Bel.	5 "	5 centers;	no change

WINTER 1902 BUILDS, REMOVALS AND RETREATS ARE DUE SAT. 6 APRIL

PRESS RELEASES:

VIENNA: The government of Ukomaasia, after having 1,000 miles of its 5,000 mile wall destroyed by Russian Troops, is forced to take defensive action. The breached portion of the wall will be rebuilt.

CHERBOURG (OCTOBER 3, 1902): English marines landed on Normandy today and seized the towns of Beaumont and Octeville. There has of yet, been no reaction from Paris.

PARIS (OCTOBER 4, 1902): Premier Charles Gaulois, reacting to recent British aggression, and what he termed, "the persecution of French nationals and Normanists in England", has announced that the French government declared war upon the United Kingdom this morning. He also added that, "any nation refusing to condemn the recent British aggression shall be considered hostile to France. Vive la France!"

LONDON: "Mr. Burke has been quoted as saying in the House: 'That France is, at this time, in a political light, to be considered as expurged out of the system of Europe. Whether she could ever appear in it again, as a leading power, was not easy to determine, but at present he considered France as not politically existing; and most assuredly it would take her much time to restore her to her former active existence-- Gallois quoque in ballis Horuissae ovidivinos, might possibly be the language of the rising generation.'
